Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 31 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers dying away this evening. Cloudy with some overnight drizzle.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered heavy showers or thunderstorms easing this evening, though remaining mostly cloudy overnight. Some outbreaks of mainly light rain or drizzle likely, mainly across Durham and Tyne and Wear, although most parts becoming dry by dawn. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
Early cloud clearing south, with brighter or sunny spells following. A mostly dry day then expected, with variable cloud and just the outside chance of a shower. Moderate coastal winds. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly fine Monday and Tuesday with sunny spells and just the odd shower possible. Breezier with a greater chance of heavier showers Wednesday. Feeling rather cool for early August.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.